Soviets Spur UN Council Meeting On 'Spy' Flights

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviets pressed today for a speedy U.N. Security Council meeting on American spy flights over the Soviet Union to get the jump on a U.S. proposal for international aerial inspection against surprise attack.

With the collapse of the summit conference, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko rushed a telegram from Paris Wednesday night asking an emergency session of the council. The Soviets charged the U.S. Air Force with aggressive flights against the Soviet Union, creating a threat to universal peace.

Sir Claude Corea of Ceylon, council president for May, told a newsman he would decide today when to schedule the meeting.

A council delegate said the Soviets wanted the meeting Friday or Saturday, obviously to hold the propaganda stage without competition from the open skies proposal President Eisenhower said the United States would submit to the U.N. But it appeared unlikely a meeting would be arranged before Monday.

The U.S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge, planned to go to Washington for weekend consultations with the President and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter.

Sources in a position to know said the United States made no effort to beat the Soviet Union to the punch before the U.N. These sources said the United States wants to avoid any spirit of altercation.

Diplomats at the U.N. privately expressed doubt that the Soviet Union could get the seven votes needed to push a resolution condemning the United States through the council. Only Poland is expected to join the Soviets in voting for the resolution. There was speculation the other nine members would either vote against it or abstain. These nine are Britain, France, Nationalist China, Argentina, Ceylon, Ecuador, Italy, Tunisia and the United States.

In turn the Soviet Union seems sure to veto any U.S. proposal for aerial inspection. Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev rejected the proposal during the abortive summit conference in Paris.

6,000 Pennsy Workers Quit Altoona Shops

Claim Court Order Doesn't Apply; 200 Return At Conway

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—Some 6,000 members walked off the job today at the Altoona repair shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

It is by far the largest walkout of TWU members to date in the so-called round-the-clock meetings everywhere along the line.

Officers of Local 2007 and 2017 at Altoona said the temporary restraining order issued by Judge

Pickets Withdraw From Wellsville Yards

Pickets did not return today at the Wellsville yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad after train crews crossed their line during Wednesday's demonstration.

Five Wellsville men who are members of the Transport Workers Union involved in a work dispute with the railroad conducted picketing from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. yesterday but the trainmen went through without incident. Work in the yards proceeded normally.

Francis L. Van Dusen of the U.S. District Court in Philadelphia Wednesday night did not apply to an intruder.

Judge Van Dusen directed the union to halt its round-the-clock meetings and avoid a June 6 strike by 25,000 maintenance employees who are members of the transport workers.

Van Dusen signed the order upon the request of the railroad. The board will continue in effect for 10 days. Van Dusen set a hearing for next Tuesday.

His action came after some 200 workers in Pittsburgh failed to report to their jobs at the 3 p. m. shift at the 30th Street and suburban stations. They joined others in Steubenville and Mingo Junction, Ohio, and Weirton, W. Va., who had halted work at one time or another this week.

Firemen Rouse Couple Asleep Despite Flames

Firemen had to break in a door late this morning and awaken a sleeping couple when a fire filled their apartment with smoke.

Asst. Chief David Anderson said firemen hammered on the French door without arousing Mr. and Mrs. Paul Densick, 4-A Thompson Pl.

A glass pane was broken but an attempt to unlock the door was unsuccessful so it had to be broken in, Anderson said. The clatter when the door struck a refrigerator partially aroused Mr. and Mrs. Densick.

Firemen said an overstuffed chair apparently caught fire from a lighted cigarette. The chair was carried outside and the fire extinguished.

A neighbor smelled smoke and turned in the alarm at 10:20 a. m., firemen said.

Sen. Kennedy Spurs Bid For Oregon Vote

Morse, Only Active Opponent, Says He'll Pull 60% Of Votes

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy stepped up the pace of his campaigning today on the eve of Oregon's Democratic presidential primary.

His only active opponent, Sen. Wayne Morse, said he still thinks he'll pull in 60 per cent of the vote Friday as a favorite son candidate.

Wherever he went Wednesday, Kennedy kept hearing people tell him they thought he could beat Morse. He kept saying he considered that unlikely and a most difficult task.

But after a day of warm receptions where throngs stood in the rain to hear him and to shake his hand, the Massachusetts senator decided on an earlier start today.

Three other senators are on the Democratic ballot — Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, and Stuart Symington of Missouri. Humphrey is out of the presidential race. Johnson and Symington haven't campaigned at all here.

Morse put it up to Oregon Democrats to repudiate Kennedy as an intruder.

However, the New England senator told them not to waste their votes on Morse but to award their 17 delegates to Johnson, Symington or himself.

This is the last major primary contest before the Democrats convene in Los Angeles July 11.

Intruder Runs When Roused Sleeper Yells

A would-be burglar fled from a Dresden Ave. woman's bedroom early today when she aroused and screamed, police reported.

Miss Mary Wyand, occupant of an apartment at 610 Dresden Ave., told police she awakened about 2:17 to discover a young man standing beside her bed. At first she thought it was her brother, but just before the man threw his hand in front of his face in an apparent attempt to avoid identification she realized it was a stranger. Miss Wyand said.

The woman said she began screaming, jumped out of bed on the side opposite from the man and ran to a window facing onto Dresden Ave., continuing to scream.

The intruder fled through a hallway in the apartment into the main hall of the building and then ran down the stairs onto Dresden Ave., Miss Wyand said. He dashed across Dresden Ave. and continued west in Rural Ln.

Investigating, police found that entry had been made via a fire escape in Green Ln. which leads to Miss Wyand's bedroom window.

She said the intruder was 25 to 30, light complexioned and about 5 feet 7. He had short, cropped hair and was wearing dark trousers and a light topcoat similar to a trench coat, Miss Wyand told police.

Strategies Mapped For 'Cold War'

World Now Faces Uncertain Future After Summit Failure

PARIS (AP)—A nervous world faced a dangerously uncertain future today as hostile chiefs of the United States and the Soviet Union turned away from the East-West battle at the summit to plan their strategies for new cold war conflict.

All hope of a quick cooling of tempers and slow rebuilding of polite relations between Washington and Moscow was dead—buried under a new barrage of insults hurled by Nikita Khrushchev at President Eisenhower.

To Western diplomats surveying the wreckage of the Big Four conference and the violence of the Soviet Premier's news conference Wednesday, the future looked ominous.

A breakdown of disarmament negotiations, a new crisis over Berlin, a return to bitter propaganda warfare, a Red China flare-up in the Far East were all regarded as possible.

Eisenhower, who scorned to reply at once to Khrushchev's slashing assault, plans to make a TV-Radio report on the summit disaster to the American people soon after he gets home Friday. He is returning by way of Lisbon, Portugal.

The Soviet Premier arranged his homeward journey to Moscow through East Berlin. The German Communist regime planned a rally for him there Friday, giving him a forum for a new tirade against the United States.

British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the last of the visiting government heads to say farewell to French President Charles de Gaulle, reports to the House of Commons Friday on the total failure of his summit policy. He had worked persistently for several years to bring the Big Four together again, as they had met at Geneva in 1955.

Macmillan's confident hope was that a meeting at the summit, even without very concrete results, would improve personal relations among the leaders, advance disarmament negotiations, and ease world tensions. He got exactly the opposite result.

Khrushchev Wednesday heaped all blame for the failure on Eisenhower and his refusal to publicly condemn U.S. spy flights over the Soviet Union. In a massive international news conference, punctuated by both boos and cheers, he called Eisenhower an aggressor, a fishy friend, deceitful and likened him to a thief.

While two thousand newsmen watched his televised, spotlighted performance, he thundered in anger, spilled contempt in sarcastic phrases, jabbed his finger at his audience and waved his arms in wrath or seeming triumph.

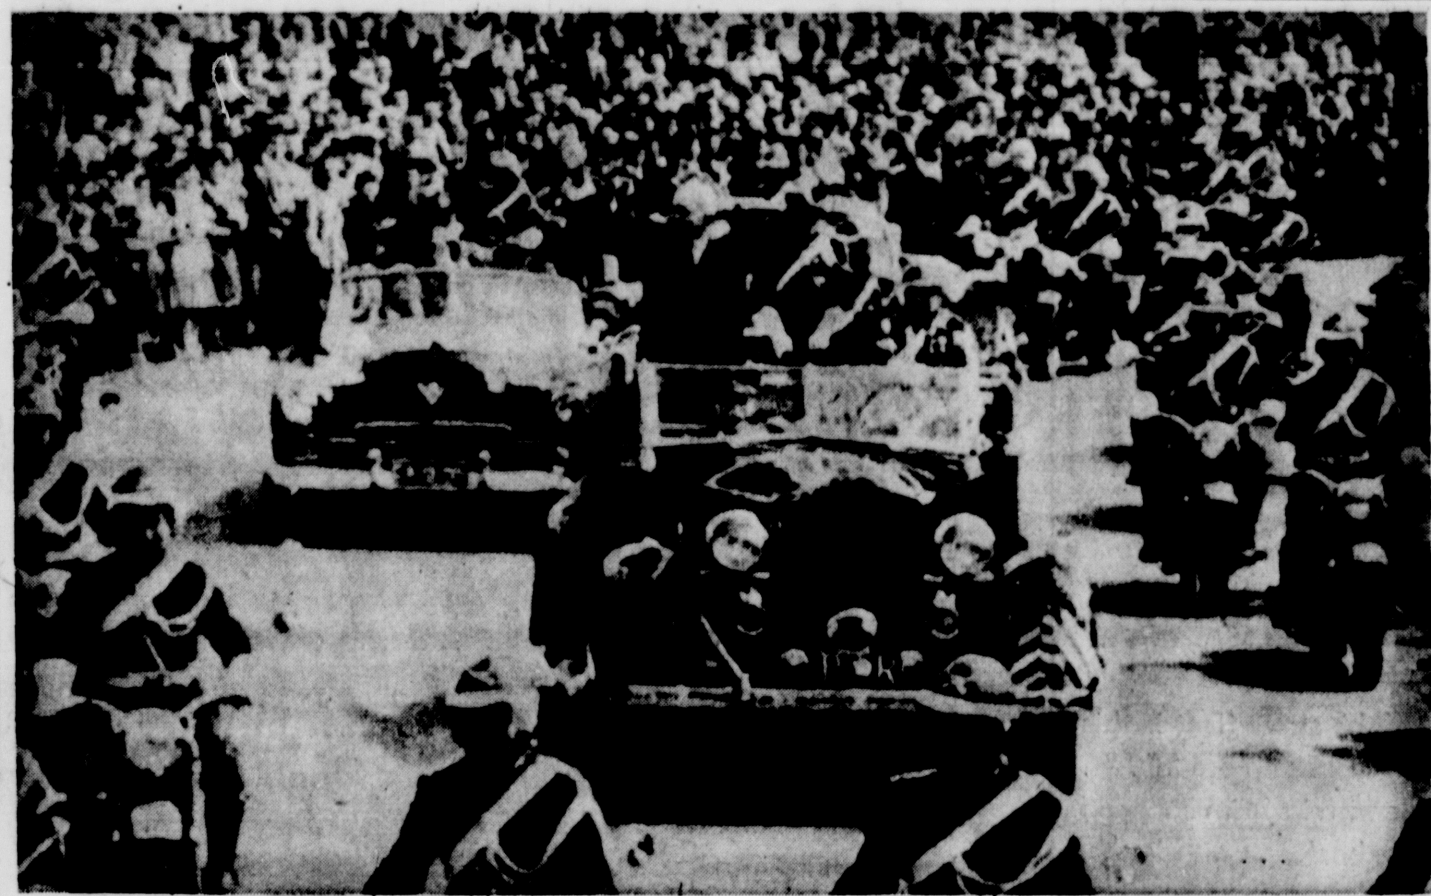

He threatened to make a separate peace treaty with East Germany. He forecast the Western allies would lose their rights in West Berlin. But he did not set a deadline for a Berlin showdown. He acclaimed the Castro government in Cuba. He predicted more Latin-American countries would rise against "American imperialism."

2 Arrested In Raid On Club At Midland

Pennsylvania State Police, Beaver County detectives and liquor control agents raided an unlicensed club in Midland at 11 last night and arrested 2.

Club 44, located at 405 Midland Ave., was raided and whisky, wine and beer was reported as being sold. The place had been under observation for some time.

Eli McCollough, proprietor, and Henry Dawson, bartender, pleaded guilty and posted $100 bond each for a court appearance at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Joseph Gerace at Rochester, accused of illegal sale.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER waves from the back of a car to a roaring crowd on hand for a warm welcome as he arrived in Lisbon, Portugal, today. 6 Car Wreck Kills Man And Hurts 5 Others

Steubenville Driver Victim Of Accident Near Pa.-W.Va. Line

A Steubenville man was killed and five others were admitted to hospitals after a six-car accident this morning at 12:30 in Pennsylvania on the mile-long hill section of Route 22 about a half mile from the West Virginia State Line beyond Weirton.

Leo Parks, 61, of Steubenville was dead on arrival at Weirton General Hospital at 1:05 a. m. In "critical" condition is Joseph Lelie, 22, of Weirton who received head, chest, internal injuries and a possible fractured shoulder. He was transferred to the Ohio Valley Hospital at Steubenville.

The others at Weirton General include Bernard Garies, 22, of Georgetown R. D. 1, with an injury of the left knee; Joseph Falk, 20, of Burgettstown R. D. 1, shoulder injury and multiple abrasions; and George Hague, 19, of Burgettstown, abrasions and possible injury of right knee. All three are in "good" condition.

Edythe Smith, 36, of Steubenville is in "fair" condition with hip and mouth injuries.

The Carnegie Barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said they were waiting permission to visit Weirton General Hospital to get details from the victims.

Police said two cars were headed west downgrade and four were headed east up grade when one car attempted to pass another and caused the chain accident.

None of the other drivers or occupants was hurt.

Cemetery Levy Eyed For Salineville Ballot

SALINEVILLE — A proposal for submitting a 2-mill levy for operating revenue for the Woodland Cemetery was approved by the cemetery trustees at a meeting Wednesday night.

The trustees passed a resolution asking Council to submit the levy in the November general election and to request Solicitor Warren Bettis to prepare legislation.

A similar 2-mill levy was defeated last November.

In other action the trustees appointed Mrs. Mildred Lindner, 27 E. Main St., as clerk, replacing Lloyd Pletcher who resigned as custodian and clerk. The next meeting will be June 22.

Greeted Warmly In Lisbon

Ike Urges Hard Work For Peace

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the wrecking of the summit conference means "we must tighten our belts, keep our chins up" and work harder for peace with justice and freedom.

He spoke informally shortly after receiving a rousing, heart-warming welcome from 250,000 staunch anti-Communist Portuguese upon arrival here for an overnight stop.

"There is no reason to be dismayed or disheartened. We have had these conditions before in dealing with the Soviets," he said.

"Rather than be dismayed we must tighten our belts, keep our chins up and each of us work a little harder for the great cause of peace with justice and freedom."

Eisenhower spoke to U.S. Embassy workers and members of the U.S. military mission here after riding in an open car through streets lined by thousands of cheering, waving Portuguese.

Crowds showered the presidential procession with confetti from office windows and balconies. Skyrockets exploded all along the

Contrasts With Spy Flight

Soviet Spy Case Handled Without Fuss, Nixon Says

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—The case of a Soviet employee of the United Nations secretariat, caught spying at the time of Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to the U.S. last year, was handled efficiently and without an international uproar, says Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Nixon contrasts the incident, reported officially for the first time Wednesday, with Khrushchev's use of the U2 spy plane incident to scuttle the summit conference in Paris.

Despite the apparent possibility of a return of the East-West cold war, however, Nixon declared that he doubted Khrushchev would resort to force.

"He believes he can gain his objective of world domination without war," the vice president declared in a speech at a sales executives' convention.

Nixon said the Western nations must prove they have the stamina to resist.

The revelation of the Soviet spy case enlivened the wind-up of the vice president's upstate New York tour. It took Nixon almost the en-

Allies Plan To Ease Curb On Bonn Arms

Revision Of 1953 Treaty Due In View Of Summit Collapse

PARIS (AP)—Allied officials reported today they plan to erase some curbs on West German rearmament in view of the summit conference breakdown.

A high official inside the North Atlantic Treaty Organization said: "In the next few weeks a substantial revision of the 1953 Paris treaties will be undertaken."

These treaties spelled out detailed limitations on West German weapon production. They were designed to bar runaway rearmament.

The informant said the starting point is likely to be formal Allied approval of a German request for permission to build warships — mainly destroyers.

It was emphasized by the informant that the planned revision of the 1953 treaties will leave untouched West Germany's pledge not to manufacture ABC—atomic, bacteriological, chemical — weapons.

Within NATO's strategic planning, the West Germans have responsibility for defense of the Baltic.

Salem Men's Hearing Set On Holdup Charge

SALEM — Two city men — one of them captured by police after a 27-hour manhunt north of here — were to be arraigned today at the Mahoning County Court at Austintown on charges of armed robbery.

Robert Hargreaves, 24, of Ash St. and Richard McLish, 21, of Granite St., accused of a holdup of a Berlin Center service station Monday night, were to be given a hearing before Judge Harold Rickert.

Hargreaves was taken into custody early Wednesday morning while hiding at a Route 45 home, wearing a girl friend's slacks and sweat shirt. He had escaped a police cordon at his home Tuesday morning when McLish was captured at the home.

Gas Strike Continues

The Tri-State District strike of gas utilities employees continued today as no announcement was made by either side on results of federal mediation Wednesday in Wheeling between the Manufacturers Light & Heat Co. and Local 420 of the Utility Workers Union. Also involved are locals at East Liverpool, Steubenville and Bellaire representing Ohio Valley Gas Co. workers and Western Pennsylvania union employees of Manufacturers. The strike began May 1.

East Berlin Talk Has No New Threats

Says Conferences There Will Tend To Aid Peace In Europe

BERLIN (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev flew into East Berlin today from the wrecked summit talks, saying the Soviet Union will stick to a policy of seeking "peaceful coexistence."

But, looking serious, the Soviet Premier returned to the attack on the United States in an airport speech. He declared circles that wanted to apply the law of the jungle had regained the upper hand in the United States.

"The government of the United States made the summit conference impossible," he said. "But the questions which were to have been discussed there have not lost their significance. These include the conclusion of a peace treaty with the Germans and a solution of the problem of Berlin which is connected therewith."

"In view of the new situation, we have to talk with Comrades Ulbricht and Grotewohl. I think that the upcoming exchange of views will be useful for the peace of Europe."

Khrushchev made no new threats against West Berlin but said he was going to talk the Berlin problem over with East German Communist leaders.

Before leaving Paris, Khrushchev reiterated his statement that he would attend another summit meeting if the United States "clears away the obstacles which prevented the present conference from going ahead." This was a reference to his demand for an apology from President Eisenhower for the U2 incident.

In his arrival speech in East Berlin, Khrushchev did not repeat his demand that the United States apologize for the U2 incident. It was too soon to deduce whether this means any change in Russian policy.

His speech was without any threats. It was as if he was being extremely careful not to stir fears among the Berlin population.

More likely, the Communist rulers may decide to hold off on a peace treaty, but create difficulties for West Berlin, isolated 110 miles behind the Iron Curtain.

Khrushchev's plane was careful to avoid flying over Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's West Germany. It flew from Paris via Copenhagen.

At the airfield, Khrushchev emerged first from the plane, followed by his defense minister, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Tens of thousands of East Berliners, freed from factories and offices lined Khrushchev's route from the airfield to the residence of East German President Wilhelm Pieck. There were thousands of jack-booted police.

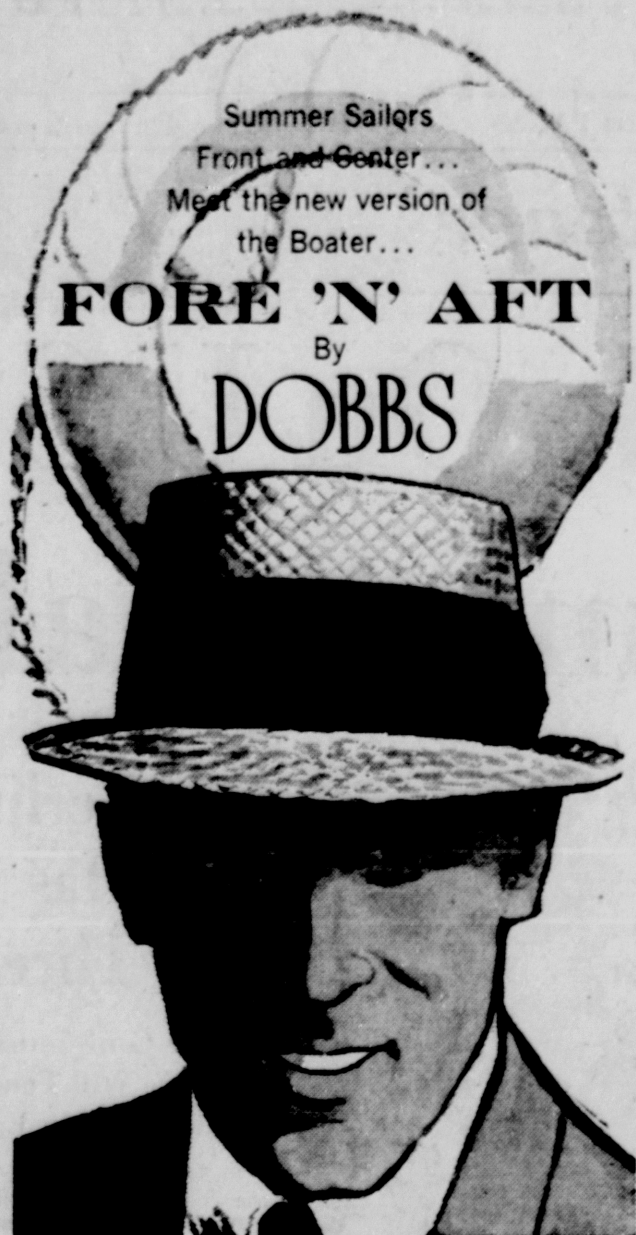

Communist party headquarters set up a mammoth reception for the Soviet leader. Red flags and slogans decorated the streets.

But plans for Khrushchev to address a mass meeting in East Berlin's central square soon after his arrival were changed. The official East German radio announced Wednesday night he would speak instead indoors on Friday afternoon.

Some 250,000 persons might have been crowded into the Marx-Engels Platz for Khrushchev's first speech since the collapse of the summit conference. The Werner Seelenbinder Hall where he will speak holds only about 5,000.

Petitions In Sandusky Ask Vote On Fast Time

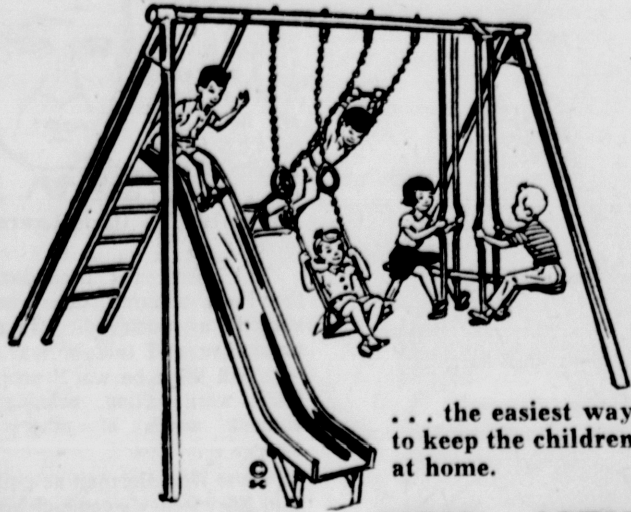

SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—Petitions containing more than 1,800 signatures were presented to City Treasurer Lynn G. Rosino Wednesday asking a special election on the question of daylight saving time. Attorney Wilbert Scherer, a representative of the committee for retention of Eastern Standard Time, presented the petitions.

They will be checked by the Erie County Board of Elections as to validity of the signatures, with 1,038 needed to call a referendum to be held at the November election and put a stop to any plans for "fast" time here this summer. The city commission has set May 30 as the effective date for daylight saving time.

Keeping The Waters Troubled

It is only human to rationalize the disappointment in Paris.

Everybody wants to make the best of what otherwise would be a collapse of hope so complete it would leave no room for optimism.

Thus, it is a comfort to believe that Premier Khrushchev is only stalling for time, perhaps until after the presidential election in the United States next November, perhaps longer.

Or to believe that the spokesman for Russia was forced to pull the rug from under the summit conference by political necessity inside the Soviet Union.

Or to hope that nothing will have been changed for either the better or the worse; that the possibility of war is no nearer now than it was before the U2 incident and Russia's violent reaction made millions ask desperately, "Does this mean war?"

But there is another way to look at the Paris disappointment that is not a quest for comfort. It is to realize that from the point of view of people in the business of stirring up trouble there is every reason to keep things in turmoil.

The conspiracy with headquarters in the Kremlin is fishing in troubled waters. There are no fish to be caught by Communists in countries that are placid and prosperous, or in harmonious relations between governments.

No government can be overthrown with Communist help, no revolutionary government can be dominated by Communists, without confusion to hide what is happening. There is no such thing as a country that deliberately chooses Communist dictatorship. Governments and people are not converted to Communism; they are captured by it.

The fishing expedition the Communists carry on tirelessly is most successful when the waters are troubled. That's why Communists have been happy in Cuba. It is their secret of success in Asia. It is their best hope in Latin America. They have lost Europe and America, but they are not discouraged.

As future events unfold—and a tightening of the Berlin crisis will be first—this necessity of stirring up trouble will explain what the Kremlin is doing. In its plan of operation there is a time to fall back and regroup—to talk softly—and there is a time to be dynamic and hostile. A time of hostility is at hand. The cold war is going to be less cold.

This does not mean there must be hot war, instead. Indeed, there is the possibility that hot war may have been outlawed by the unearthly heat of the thermo-nuclear blast. Its place may be taken by a new kind of war, just as worrisome but less violent.

What is happening now may be a sample.

The Supposition Of Any Summit

This week in the United States, a summit conference is going to be attempted with no brighter prospect of success than the one that flopped in Paris.

The government-sponsored meeting between union leaders and management representatives to explore the possibilities of industrial peace is under the same handicap that broke the Paris parley.

Its participants are not of one mind about the purpose of their coming together. The supposition of any summit conference is that agreement can be reached; that everybody will be trying to reach the same goal and that the goal is peace.

But Nikita Khrushchev did not have good will in his mind when he came to Paris. He had a stout talking point in the U-2 incident for casting doubt on the good will of President Eisenhower. In a pinch, he could have found flaws in the behavior of President De Gaulle and evidence that Prime Minister Macmillan had not won a clean bill of health as a peace lover, either.

That is the flaw of summit conferences—that they require more of their participants than the participants can give them and thus always will make them appear to be failures. The labor-management conference is opening under a dark omen because the union representatives, George Meany, president of AFL-CIO, Walter Reuther, vice president of AFL-CIO and president of United Auto Workers, and George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, feel their magnitude has not been matched by the management representatives. They wanted to meet with the heads of the largest corporations. They will meet, instead, with the presidents of Otis Elevator, J. I. Case, Wyman-Gordon Co. and the National Association of Manufacturers.

It is obvious from this lineup that management cannot conceivably be represented in its entirety by any particular group of spokesmen, any more than unionism can be represented by one group. Yet, the union representatives are purporting to speak not only for all unions but for all labor, though unions represent only a minority of working people.

We hope for the best when there's a chance to cool off the hot differences that keep men at each other's throats. But summit conferences that hold out the promise of settling issues the participants may not want to have settled are not as happy a prospect as they were a few days ago.

If there were enough good faith to make a summit conference work, there wouldn't need to be a conference.

The Light Of Learning

Approaching baccalaureate services for district high school graduating classes underscore the longstanding interrelation of religion and education.

The spiritual and moral aspects of life are never apart from the challenges of the classroom or daily work nor from the intellectual maturing of young men and women. Separation of church and state was not intended as an isolation of basic, practical education from the higher knowledge of moral understanding and devotion to God.

At a meeting of religious leaders at Painesville this week, Dr. Howard Schomer, president of the Chicago Theological Seminary, asserted churches must work to preserve culture and learning, and any church that fails to stay close to education is not doing its job.

"Religion must be in fertile, constant contact with centers of learning," he stated.

Churches, often guardians of knowledge in critical times of man's history, long have been sponsors of schools and colleges and served as a cornerstone of the growth of American democracy by providing the required learning for self-government.

High school seniors should be aware not only of their needs for spiritual guidance as they accept the responsibilities of graduation, they also should realize the debt they owe to churches for education and should strive to lead their church in maintaining that rich tradition.

Why Shouldn't They Pay?

Gov. DiSalle has met bitter resistance in some quarters in his efforts to have Atty. Gen. McElroy collect some 260,000 back bills totaling half a billion dollars owed for mental patient care in state hospitals.

It is difficult to understand the resistance. There would be great difficulty, of course, in any attempt to collect a bill many years old, as many of the bills are. No surviving relative could be expected to be haunted by a bill about which he had no previous knowledge and could not possibly be prepared to pay.

But certainly patients in state institutions should be expected to pay for services to them if they can afford to do so.

The state institutions were set up to care for people who need care. If they cannot pay, taxpayers foot the bill. If they can pay, the state should collect. There is no fairness in the state's permitting a patient to leave an estate to relatives after his death while still owing the state of Ohio.

The trouble has been that for years no real effort has been made to collect these bills. Now that he has discovered them piled up, Gov. DiSalle is trying to do something about them.

Even if they oppose collecting back bills, taxpayers of Ohio should support him in a real effort to collect money due the state whenever it is collectible.

The Once Over

Nobody could ever tell us that the deans of Yale and the most dignified old Blues didn't often whistle in the privacy of their homes and go into their unrestrained dance routine after seeing a Cole Porter musical in New Haven. But they always passed him up when it came to an honorary degree until now. In June he will get one, Elihu having finally decided to come through with "Let's Do It," "I Get a Kick Out of You" and "You're the Top," upon encountering Porter in check of candidates for highest honors.

Even Timothy Dwight would have asked, "Shall we dance?" if "Begin the Beguine" had been current in his time. And we can fancy Arthur Twining Hadley and Anson Phelps Stokes secretly getting a lift out of "Night and Day," "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" and "Just One of Those Things."

The long wait in bestowing honorary degrees is an outstanding case of delayed pass in music and football. Porter's earliest tunes were "Bingo" and "Bull Dog" which helped many a Yale broken field runner over goal lines.

Numerous stars made the All-American with Porter's songs giving extra speed and punch. Porter was never an athlete but he has for half a century been a triple threat in Ivy League grid games through these rousing gridiron "spirittuals."

The big switch is that now Yale notables will bring degree to Porter in his Waldorf suite, since he is not in physical shape to get to campus. Scientists, explorers, architects, engineers and big businessmen have been in Yale honorary degree parades for generations but it is doubtful if any grad has brought more pleasure to more people in more places.

No explorer has covered more territory, no scientist or engineer has done more to get the human spirit off the ground and no architect's blueprints have led to greater "edifices of gaiety and joy" Yale toted a degree to a grad is a "switch." Porter rates it. We hope the college dignitaries presenting it will let down their hair, ask Cole to play a few tunes from "Can Can" and let themselves go.

WOMEN'S COOKING CHAMPION will be fought for at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. But it strikes the missus that any gal who would want to spend time over a hot stove down there must be a little blasé.

One of these days Khrushchev is going to break both fists urging peace on earth.

Memories Of Munich

By David Lawrence

Khrushchev's Conduct Compared To Hitler

Is the world face to face with another Hitler? Will the next few months see another set of appeasement maneuvers in the West such as began at Munich in 1938?

These are strange questions to be asking but no less strange than a Reuters news dispatch from London Monday night which read as follows:

"The threatened breakdown of the Paris summit talks tonight stirred a worldwide wave of pessimism and talk of war."

"Will there be war?" people in Paris were asking, echoing the anxious words of others elsewhere.

"Some West German newspapers said Khrushchev's conduct brought back grim memories of Hitler and 'the period of surprises' with which the Nazi dictator opened what one paper called 'the most terrible period of history.' Another compared Khrushchev to 'Stalin in his best days' while a West Berlin daily said the Kremlin leader 'plays poker with peace.'"

Thus does a world in jitters speculate as it sees again what damage a one-man dictatorship can do. But, just as at Munich a firm hand might have checkmated Hitler, so today a firm hand can checkmate a Khrushchev.

While talking arrogantly and threateningly, the Soviet dictator knows that if there are no conferences to relieve tension and no progress toward agreements on outstanding issues, the people of Russia will also get jittery. They could oust Khrushchev for fear he might plunge them into a nuclear war.

OUTWARDLY, therefore, things look grim but, actually, there are signs that Khrushchev is playing a game. He is blunt, defiant, outspoken but he also is canny. He will discover that the Western alliance cannot be divided and he will learn, too, that Americans will rally behind their President despite the minority of shortsighted politicians who show signs of trying to get some political mileage out of an insinuation that President Eisenhower is somehow to blame for the torpedoing of the summit conference.

The Soviet leader cannot pose as a peacemaker and then suddenly be revealed as a maker of war. The reaction of the West indicates an apprehension that he may overplay his hand and that his arbitrary tactics someday will force a war.

The texts of the various communications indicate that the Soviet leader is in a defensive mood. Once President Eisenhower refused to go to a summit conference because Mr. Khrushchev threatened the West with an ultimatum. So today the Soviet Premier says he, too, can refuse to go, under the duress of the spy-plane incident.

But, as any student of diplomatic history would tell Mr. Khrushchev, it's all right to make demands and to bluff, but it's also wise to leave a way out for the other side. Thus, he could have construed President Eisenhower's decision to suspend the reconnaissance flights as a point that he had won. But Mr. Khrushchev wasn't satisfied and—like Hitler—has demanded the humiliation of his adversary.

This can only lead eventually to a break in diplomatic relations and constant talk of war—something that will arouse the people of the Soviet Union even more quickly than the peoples of the West. For the Russians have memories of many millions of their countrymen who died in the last war.

There could be a revolution inside the Soviet Union if tension increases and war threatens. Since the satellite nations behind the Iron Curtain would be in the path of a war, they, too, must inevitably rise up to protest. They would surely join any revolt that breaks out.

MR. KHRUSHCHEV, moreover, has unwittingly opened up the whole question of who should rule in his own country. For he has, in effect, told the world that he wants to postpone any serious negotiations till after the presidential elections in the United States next November, when he hopes the kind of administration will be elected with which he can do business.

If he is trying to choose a president for the United States by throwing his propaganda support to an opposition party, then it might be asked whether it isn't fair play also to let the Americans have something to say about who is to rule Russia.

There ought to be some way to propose reciprocity to the Soviet leader—a free election for Russia in November, with a slate of opposition candidates, in exchange for a moratorium on spy flights or even on some nuclear tests.

An announcement that such elections would be held could do more to bring peace in the world than a hundred summit conferences. Unfortunately, such elections cannot be held till the people of the Soviet Union have recovered possession of their own government.

Ham, But No Windbag

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON
Premier Nikita Khrushchev is such a ham he'd go good in a delicatessen window. But he's no windbag. The West made its mistake in treating him as one.

The deepest danger in dealing with him—one the West had to learn the hard way—is that he doesn't play according to Western rules. That's what makes him unpredictable.

His performance at the Paris summit meeting and particularly his name-calling — he likened President Eisenhower to a thief—shocked the West which judges by its own yardstick.

Western statesmen are polite, frigidly dignified when angry, and great believers in the traditional, which means formal, way of chastising people who offend them. They wear dignity like a charm to ward off voodoo.

In contrast: What Western statesmen would ever in public call Nazi sympathizers what Khrushchev did Wednesday at a news conference? The Russian word he used came out in various translations as ruffian, louts and bastards. Western statesmen might think such terms, but they wouldn't say them.

The kind of diplomatic omelette Khrushchev whips up is ham mixed with anger.

For example: His fish-wife argument with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in Moscow; his temper-tantrums in Hollywood; his verbal brawl with labor leaders; his wearing a longshoreman's cap in San Francisco.

His biggest hamming is in his timing: His arrival in Washington last September came just as the Soviets fired a moon shot; He arrived at the summit meeting as the Soviets launched a space ship. But the West had to suffer one shock after another before it learned—if it has learned, even now—that his hamming has nothing to do with his serious intentions and that therefore he can't be treated lightly or with contempt.

Ever since November 1958, he had insisted the West must get its troops out of West Berlin or face the prospect of his shutting the city off from the West entirely.

He used this threat as blackmail to get the Western leaders to the Paris summit meeting with him. He may have had some other reasons for wanting a summit. Perhaps he genuinely wanted easing of tensions so the Soviet Union could develop faster internally.

But then in April, a month before the summit, the Western foreign ministers met here and very complacently, as if Khrushchev were not to be taken seriously, decided the West would stand pat at the summit.

This angered him. It left him with little to look forward to but an empty conference. A few days after the ministers' meeting broke up he made a furious speech at Leningrad.

In this he told the West in effect: Don't take me lightly; I mean it when I say you have to get the troops out of Berlin.

Was he even then taken seriously? No, not even by Eisenhower who told a news conference three days later: "It is just a reiteration of the same old theme. . . I don't think we should take that too seriously."

Just four days after Eisenhower brushed aside Khrushchev's angry speech an American spy plane was brought down over the Soviet Union. Khrushchev reacted violently to this intrusion. Aggression, he called it.

Even that didn't induce the State Department to handle him cautiously. It issued a statement which it permitted newsmen to interpret as meaning this country would continue to send spy planes over the Soviet Union.

This is what blew the lid off although by this time—perhaps realizing he couldn't talk the West into meeting his Berlin demands—Khrushchev may have been ready to blow up the summit meeting anyway.

American families have become larger in the past 20 years. The number of mothers with a second child is 90 per cent greater than in 1940, the number of third-born children is up 86 per cent, the number of fourth-born is up 60 per cent, and the number of fifth-born is up 15 per cent.

Nixon Puts Hoffa Into 'Orbit'

By Victor Riesel

from the delegation and asked that a labor man be put on in my place.

"The chap who replaced me is regarded as one of the outstanding leaders in the state. When John Cooper and I ran for the Senate, we had Railroad Brotherhood and some Construction Trade Unions support."

MORTON MADE no effort to publicize the move, though it is as good news story as any which broke that day.

But inside the Republican party, he and his colleagues have been

The vice president of the United States has just kicked the provisional president of the Teamsters right into outer political space. If this fall the big ballot says it's Dick Nixon against Jack Kennedy, Jim Hoffa will have no candidate. Hoffa can not devote equal hatred to both in truly non-partisan anger.

It has not been reported but Nixon has charged that Hoffa has been smearing the labor movement. And the vice president has more than suggested that it's time the rank-and-file clean out the Teamsters chief and others like him.

Nixon did this during his unprecedented one-star television interview. Along about 12:45 a.m. Monday, Nixon—with neither his opinions, his collar nor his temperament willing—made it clear that no law could wipe the Hoffas out of labor.

He said it was the "responsibility" of the rank-and-file who really are the labor movement. And then Nixon appeared to place confidence in that rank-and-file.

HE WAS ASKED about labor in politics. Quickly he asserted he was for labor in politics all the way—just so long as no union spent the money of members on candidates opposed by the members.

He was for labor in politics so long as it operated on voluntary contributions.

He followed through by revealing that some opponents of labor had come to him asking for a law to keep unions out of politics. To those businessmen the vice president had said—don't object, don't ask for a law but get into politics yourselves.

There didn't seem to be any premeditation in Nixon's answers, for he knew nothing of the scores of questions thrown at him. The beads of sweat were from the lights and not from sudden need to piece policy together.

Nixon reflected the Republican party's point of view, it seemed to this observer in the studio that morning. I recalled, for example, and significant example it is, the action of GOP national chairman, Sen. Thurston Morton.

Morton will not be a delegate to the Republican nominating convention. He had been named delegate-at-large from Kentucky. But he stepped down in favor of another—namely the research director of the Kentucky State AFL-CIO organization.

Replacing Morton will be Scott Cole, to whom the Kentucky labor leaders turn for bolstering and statistics in many of their drives.

OF COURSE, Chairman Morton will be at the Chicago convention. It simply happened that one day—April 23—during the Kentucky Republican State convention Herschel Hoe, a former official of the Louisville Building and Construction Trades Council, made a short speech.

Hoe got up that morning and called for more labor representation.

Sen. Morton then told this columnist: "In the selection of delegates in Kentucky we did have union representative in the original slate. We have some very active labor officials in the Republican party."

"They made the point that they should be represented more strongly in the delegation to the national convention."

"At the State Central Committee meeting following the state convention, I asked to be removed

Politics And Spy Case

By Raymond Moley

No one, not even a thousand George Gallups, should venture what the considered opinion of the American people may be on any matter of importance.

The best judges of the immediate reaction to any event, issue or public decision are those who, after many years of experience in public affairs, have so identified themselves with average Americans as to reflect public opinion from their own sense of right or wrong or practical.

Many members of Congress have this capacity. So do experienced editors and other newspapermen who are not too close to the Washington atmosphere, which is colored so much by representatives of European countries resident there.

If we take British official opinion as an example, there can be no doubt about the reaction to the U2 episode. The leaders of both political parties there have immense confidence in summit meetings.

FIVE YEARS AGO, I was in England reporting the general election. In the midst of the debate President Eisenhower announced his support of a summit meeting.

There is no doubt whatever that this made many. Conservative votes, for that party was in power and has made a summit meeting a major promise.

This Conservative appeal far outdistanced the rather vague appeals of Labor for an end to nuclear testing.

The same feeling prevailed last October when I was there again. Macmillan got plenty of mileage from the claim that he was best able to get concessions from both the Soviet and the United States.

British opinion has great influence in our Eastern seaboard and in Washington and while the British government has been engaged in all sorts of espionage since long before Columbus discovered America, it deprecates the present spy incident.

Possibly this is because we were caught. Also, because we timed things wrong. Also, because we were frank in admitting it.

But over the country, I believe, most Americans approach the Soviet problem from a quite different point of view.

Revelations of Soviet rascality, including their persistent meddling in our affairs here, have changed our reaction toward what we would once have regarded as a breach of our idealistic policies. Moreover, Americans generally are heartily sick of Khrushchev's bluster and threats.

We are sorry that Powers had the ill luck or mechanical trouble which resulted in his capture but we are also glad that our government has been meeting the Soviet on its own terms. We want to know as much about Russian strength as they know about ours.

THIS DEEPLY imbedded American view was well reflected by Sen. Johnson of Texas and Congressman Cannon of Missouri. They made no apologies. They hurled the challenge back at Khrushchev.

Adlai Stevenson, however, deplores with alarm. He says that we should no longer engage in "tribal feuding." We are exhorted to set an example of innocence and purity.

We have been setting that example over many years. We indicated it in two world wars from which we gained nothing but the ingratitude of Communism.

Stevenson is not seeking political advantage, he says. But his position on this issue betrays that. And he is as greatly mistaken as he was in 1956 when he advocated our unilateral abandonment of nuclear tests as a last desperate appeal in the campaign.

The over-riding responsibility of the President is to see to it that we are safe from surprise attack and destruction by an avowed enemy. This responsibility he has accepted. Americans agree with him.

visit before flying on to Washington Friday.

Recalling that he had visited Portugal in 1951, the President told President Americo Rodrigues Tomaz and the nation's strongman ruler for 32 years, Premier Antonio de Oliveira Salazar:

"In coming to Portugal I feel once more that I am visiting old friends. Since the founding of the United States the relationships between the two countries have been happy.

"From the outset we have worked together without a single difference of opinion. Today, as members of the United Nations and as partners in NATO, we continue to work together in the common cause of peace and justice for all men."

Crowds six and eight deep lined the route of the presidential procession through the capital to Queluz Palace, where Eisenhower is staying.

The President and his hosts rode in an open Rolls Royce surrounded by Republican Horse Guards in blue tunics and white breeches.

Eisenhower looked tired but he had a wide grin as he waved to the crowds.

While outwardly cheerful and smiling, he did not try to hide his disappointment at the fiasco of the East-West talks that never really got started.

Just before leaving Paris, Eisenhower made his first public comment on the collapse of the conference. But he made no attempt to answer the insults heaped on him and the United States by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"I share the disappointment of my colleagues that, because of our inability to convene the summit conference, we could make no progress for easing the tensions which so plague mankind," he said in a statement at Paris' Orly Airport.

"But I fully share their confidence that because of this setback, we of the Western Allies, and particularly France, Britain and the United States, both through their governments and through their people, are joined even closer than before in determined pursuit of peace with justice in the world."

Kaycees Welcome 4 New Members

Four new members who received the fourth degree at a district exemplification May 1 in Canton were welcomed Wednesday night at a meeting of Cardinal Mercier General Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus.

They are John Albert Dean, Ellis Hawkins, Wayne DeRhodes and John P. Kozora. At the meeting in the Wellsville Kaycee Home, the assembly also made plans for an Eastern Ohio District convention Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Pick-Ohio Hotel at Youngstown. Frank R. O'Hanlon and Fred Baldassarre of Wellsville will represent the assembly.

The names of three candidates probably will be submitted for appointment as district master. John E. Johnston of East Liverpool is the present district master.

Plans also were discussed for the annual election of assembly officers at the next meeting June 15 in the East Liverpool Kaycee Home. Summer activities were discussed, including an anniversary dinner that probably will be held in mid-summer.

Litter Campaign Bulletin Contains Review Picture

A special bulletin prepared by the Keep America Beautiful organization for the prevention of litter, and to be distributed to 150,000 scout leaders, contains a picture taken by Byron Eells, Review photographer and which appeared originally in this newspaper.

Pictured are Miss Betsy Hobbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hobbs; Marilyn Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Finley, and James Seeley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Seeley, all of Chester.

The scouts were pictured in a co-operative effort against "litterbugs." The bulletin, prepared in co-operation with the Girl Scouts, is sponsored by the non-profit educational public service organization combating litter. It will be distributed this month.

Mrs. Seeley is the Neighborhood Troop organizer for Chester and has been the co-ordinator for the "Keep America Beautiful" program since 1956.

Girl Scouts of the nation, as part of their promise to "God and Country," have pledged to assist with the preservation of all of its natural resources.

Board Of Visitors Praises County Foster Home Setup

A commendation for the Columbiana County foster home program, along with a recommendation for increased allowance for such care to foster parents, was released today in the annual report of the county Board of visitors.

Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, chairman of the board organized in October 1959, said the group visited the County Home, jails, foster homes and other county facilities in the past year for inspection of conditions.

The board reported the foster home program is commendable, but that the $1 a day allowance for each child to the foster parents is insufficient, and a recommendation has been made to the county commissioners that the allowance be increased to $40 a month.

A previous report recommending improvements to the County Home was made a number of months ago. The board in the current report recommends that commissioners request the county sanitarian to make another inspection of the County Home and to submit a report.

Inspection was held at jails in the county, and the board reported the County Jail was found to be in "very good" condition — "neatness and cleanliness prevailed throughout."

Of the city jails inspected, the one at East Palestine "was by far the cleanest." Other city jails varied from "good" to "fair," depending upon the age of the building housing it. Some were cleaned more often than others, but all received a thorough cleaning at least once a week.

In referring to the foster home program, board members reported they were "favorably impressed with the caliber of people who are willing to take foster children into their homes."

"Most of the foster homes are in rural areas where the children have the opportunity to live and work on a farm while attending school.

"In every instance, the foster parents display a genuine interest in the children, and a close attachment has grown for the children.

"Many foster parents indicated an interest and desire to adopt foster children. Most of the homes were better and more comfortable than is generally expected in such a program.

"The County Welfare Department is to be commended for their ability to secure the caliber of homes we found for placing the children."

The board also said it was "most enthusiastic" about the new County Children's Receiving Home at East Palestine, a gift of Roger M. Kyes.

steel standards to halt either children or traffic. Operated by schoolboy patrol members, the gates can be held aloft by a safety catch when not in use and can be removed for storage when school is not in session.

Guercio explained to school officials yesterday the gates will halt traffic where no traffic signals are provided and furnish additional warnings to motorists even where there are signals.

The gates have been donated so far by the First National Bank, Bloor's Pharmacy, Economy Manufacturing Co., Crucible Steel Co., Troy Cleaners, Hume, Inc., Marlin Enterprises, Inc., and Sevy Drugs.

Suggests Tax Boost

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Charles L. Babcock has suggested increasing the city's six-mill income tax to provide more money for city projects and operation. The city is trying to raise $200,000 for streets and an additional $112,500 to rebuild 30th Street N.W. Mayor Babcock suggested Wednesday that the tax be increased to one per cent for those earning more than $3,500 a year.

Rhodes will be assisted by Carl Johnson, deputy in charge of municipalities for the Bureau of Inspection, and others. The four-day meeting is designed to aid officials in performing fiscal duties, Rhodes said.

Teachers Liked Their Corsages—But Then

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — In the spring some youngsters' fancy turns to picking pretty wild flower corsages for their teachers.

The teachers liked it—until they started itching and breaking out.

So today — no more wild flower corsages. City crews sprayed drainage ditches where the poison ivy has been growing.

Dies Of Hemorrhage

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ted R. Gamble, 54, of Portland, Ore., president of Mount Hood Radio and Television, operators of KOIN and KOIN-TV, died of a brain hemorrhage in San Francisco.

Army Conducts Rigorous 'Cold Chamber' Tests

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Army is conducting cold chamber tests more rigorous than those faced by Arctic explorers in efforts to determine how much exposure a man can take, how many men can endure it and what food is most conducive to pulling through.

The project was disclosed Wednesday. The tests are being made at Lankenau Hospital's new research center.

Usually two men, between 20 and 30, are placed in a cold chamber at a time, clad only in shorts. They stay there for 10 days without a break — if they can. The temperature is 42 to 45 degrees above zero.

Nurses and doctors watch through windows, alert for behavior changes. Special devices, strapped to the men's bodies, measure heart beats, blood pressure and energy. Four diets are tested.

First Provision Good, But Second One-Umph

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — The will of Bessie Imbeau, filed for probate Wednesday made two provisions for her three teen-aged step grand children.

The first provision left them $30,000 in a trust fund plus one third interest each in 200 acres of lead mining land.

The second provision specified that Harvey Imbeau, 19, Ralph Imbeau, 16, and James Imbeau, 13, couldn't spend any of the money for an automobile.

Beaver Local Society Gets Charter

A new National Honor Society was organized at Beaver Local High School Tuesday when representatives from the East Liverpool High School chapter formally presented a charter.

Alice Jane Neiser of East Liverpool, who conducted the candlelight ceremony, and Craig Burbick, president of the East Liverpool unit.

George VanHorne, executive head of Beaver Local Schools, spoke on the four qualifications of membership in the society: scholarship, leadership, service and character.

Talks on the qualifications were given by Elsa Rubin, Bruce Jones, Cindy Calcott and Darrell Smith, all of the East Liverpool chapter.

About 500 students attended the assembly. The new chapter has 29 members. Lee Kirkland, principal, is adviser. Officers will be elected next year.

Overweight Mother Effects Family Life

Overweight young mothers, today's column is for you. With all you have to do, it is natural to rationalize that you couldn't possibly get through your day if you had to be involved with a diet. You may even think that carrying the extra weight helps you to be more patient and a better mother.

The attitude that you would be irritable while reducing is insidiously harmful since it can stop you from dieting. You become resigned to staying overweight... even though you are carrying 25, 30 or more extra pounds!

Do some honest fact-finding. Excess poundage is a definite health hazard and one that is prone to 'grow' as the years go by. Realize that what affects your health ultimately affects the happiness of your family.

HERE IS A REAL life example: One month ago your dietitian told the story of the overweight mother who was jolted into taking action. When her little girl asked her if she would ever be a real mommy, thin like real mothers are... forthwith the mother went straight to her doctor for a check-up and a diet.

Her second letter, written the first of March, gives her progress report.

"I wrote you at the beginning of my reducing program to announce that I had started that long road to slimmest after my small daughter asked unhappily if I would ever be a real mother."

"I forgot to mention that I am 27 years of age and, at the start of my reducing, I was 82 pounds overweight. In my first letter I told of a loss of 18 pounds which I was proud of.

"Another trip to the doctor and scads of lean meat, vegetables and fruits later, I have now lost a total of 35 pounds. This has brought me down to 187 from 222 pounds. 'I still want to lose that other 47 excess pounds. My goal is 140 by Christmas, 1960. I shall drop you another letter in about 5 or 6 weeks. When I get down to 140 I shall send you a picture of myself with the same slacks on that I wore when I weighed 222 pounds. They are already far too big for me.

"I couldn't be happier if someone gave me a million dollars."

I DOFF MY dietitian's cap to this courageous young mother. Happiness is not an apple that one can peel and eat. It is victory over self that brings genuine joy.

Overweights, recognize that the greatest favor you can do yourself and your family is to change your food habits and get on the healthy road to fewer pounds. Look upon this venture as a new beginning... then eating to reduce becomes a stimulating challenge.

Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

County Korean Bonus Claims Hit $522,314

Korean conflict bonus payments to Columbiana County veterans and next-of-kin totaled $522,314 to May 1, according to Director Walter Bolton at Columbus.

There were 2,064 living claims paid and 35 to next-of-kin. The county, which filed 0.9 per cent of the claims, received 0.87 per cent of the $11.3 million paid.

Dec. 31, 1958, was the last date to file a claim. Some claims still are being resolved, Bolton said.

First Reading Given Curfew For Chester

Initial reading of an ordinance establishing a 10 p. m. curfew for all young people in Chester 17 or under was approved by Council at a meeting Wednesday night.

If given final approval, the measure would prohibit teen-agers on the streets after curfew unless accompanied by a parent or responsible adult.

It would also prohibit parents from permitting their sons or daughters on the street after 10. It would not apply to instances where the youngster were attending a church, school, Scout or similar authorized meetings.

Violators would be fined up to $5 for the first offense and from $5 to $10 for subsequent violations, and may be jailed up to 10 days at the discretion of the mayor.

A payment of $2,000 was authorized this week on $9,000 owed for the 1959 street blacktopping program. Council previously paid $3,000 on the $12,000 project, and the remainder of the contract with the River Asphalt Co. of Newell has been taken over by the First National Bank of East Liverpool.

Joseph H. Snyder of the asphalt firm has signed a note for the money due him, and the city will now pay the bank. The balance of some $7,000 is due June 30.

Council indicated some remedial work on the blacktopping is to be done before final payment.

Council agreed to appointment of a special officer to serve at the Hi-Teen at the City Hall. Mayor Burton Ward said the youth center sponsors will pay for a bond for Rex Cowey, whose duties will be limited to the City Hall when the Hi-Teen is in session.

CONCERT ATTRACTIONS. Among featured musicians at the annual spring concert of the Beaver Local High School band Friday night will be, left to right, Vicky Windle, vocal soloist, and Jeanne Feisley, Debbie Ashbaugh and Susan Beede, flute trio. The concert, to start at 8, will include a variety program lasting an hour and 20 minutes Jack W. Campbell, director, said. Junior, senior and beginner bands will play, with "Sound of Summer" as the theme. Tickets will be available from members or at the door.

In other action, Council authorized changing of the name of Knowles Lane, following a request from residents relayed by Councilman Walter McSwegin.

The residents said the name is listed different ways, and they prefer lane to alley.

At the request of Police Chief Harold Davis, city Civil Defense director, use of the Council chamber was granted for a CD first aid training class to be held Mondays and Thursdays starting June 2.

William Glover was appointed superintendent of the fire department, succeeding Raymond Gibbs, who recently resigned. The city pays $100 annually to the post.

Youth Confesses Burglary In Home

A 15-year-old Rigby St. boy has confessed the $45 burglary of a Green Ln. home Tuesday, police reported.

As the boy has been before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for previous violations, arrangements are being made to send him direct to the Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus, Police Capt. Robert Pyle said.

Police were at work on the investigation and already had questioned and released one suspect when they learned that the 15-year-old had returned the stolen money to Jack Pitts, 820 Green Ln., whose home was entered via a window Tuesday.

Officers then got in touch with the boy's mother and instructed her to take him to headquarters. After admitting the burglary, the boy was released to his parents' custody while arrangements are made for his admittance to the research center, Capt. Pyle said.

Bit Of Doing

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — John Swing, a high school student from LaCrosse, was invited to address the Wisconsin Academy of Science, Arts and Letters to discuss his scientific feat: how he changed an old pinball machine into a computer.

Women's CD Unit Gets Invitation To Memorial Service

The Women's Civil Defense Council received an invitation Wednesday night to attend Memorial Sunday services May 29 at the First Methodist Church.

The invitation was extended in a letter from Dr. D. Finley Wood, pastor, read at the group's meeting in City Hall.

The CD Council also received a letter from Mayor Bert H. Goodballet regarding meetings of the Joint Memorial Day committee. Plans were made for the group to help staff first aid stations which will be set up for the parade May 30.

Mrs. Jane Jolly conducted business in the absence of Mrs. Luella Myers, president. A health demonstration was given by Mrs. Ethel Gleckner.

At the next meeting June 15 in the Council Chamber at City Hall, plans will be made for a visit to a missile base at Pittsburgh.

Chester Sewer Board Will Seek Federal Aid

Plans for filing an application for federal aid for the proposed sewage disposal plant for Chester were made at a meeting of the Sanitary Board Wednesday night with John Pinnery of Neptune Ave., board member.

Copies of the city's sewage ordinance and the application for federal aid will be sent to the West Virginia Water Resources Commission at Charleston.

The Public Service Commission's approval of the city's sewage rates — 110 per cent of the water bills — will also be sought.

Mayor Burton Ward said A. R. Todd, Wheeling engineer who prepared a preliminary engineering survey for the plant, will meet with the board next week for further discussion on plans for the sewage system.

Queen To Be Crowned At Cumberland Prom

NEW CUMBERLAND — Crowning of a queen will highlight the annual Junior-Senior Prom of New Cumberland High School tonight in the high school gymnasium.

The crowning is scheduled at 10. The prom will start at 9 following the annual junior-senior banquet in the Swaney Memorial Library at 6.

Combined community organizations will sponsor a post-prom party in the gym.

Shelterhouse Slated For Salineville Dump

SALINEVILLE — Plans for construction of a shelter building for the custodian at the jointly operated village and Washington Township dump were worked out at a meeting between township trustees and Council Wednesday night.

The trustees tentatively agreed to provide materials for the structure with Council being responsible for erecting it. Bills were paid. The trustees will meet again June 1.

Shoub Vice President

Tobin Again Elected Head Of Counseling Group Here

Judge Louis Tobin was renamed president when directors of the Child Counseling Center held their annual election Wednesday night at the offices in Mary Patterson Memorial.

Mayor William Shoub of Wellsville was elected vice president and Miss Elizabeth Coleman and Arthur Thomas re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Cornell Monda, who has been serving as consulting psychologist for the center, was rehired for another year. Monda is a psychologist for the Lisbon public school system. He and Miss Kathleen Potter, receptionist and secretary, are the only paid members of the center, all others serving on a volunteer basis.

The directors approved a resolution which calls for suspension of the professional services of the center during July and August, with the center itself remaining open, however, through July 31.

Because of the constantly expanding services being offered in the tri-state district, the decision was reached reluctantly, they said.

The center depends on volunteer contributions for meeting its budget and Judge Tobin pointed out that the financial situation would not permit a 12-month operation at this time.

In addition to salaries for Miss Potter and Monda, expenses include rental of the offices, a monthly telephone bill and other incidentals.

The directors expressed the hope that funds may be forthcoming before the June meeting to enable operations to continue on a professional basis through the summer.

Miss Helen Allison, principal of McKinley School, was appointed chairman of a bureau to carry the organization's program to various organizations requesting speakers.

In his monthly report, Monda pointed out that 19 cases are on the waiting list. Referrals to the center come from physicians, the schools, parents and other sources.

Adventists Plan Investiture Rites

A Pathfinder Youth Investiture service will be conducted Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Seventh-day Adventist Church with Warren N. Wittenberg of Mt. Vernon in charge.

The program will include a candlelight service and each youth will demonstrate something he has accomplished during the year. Elder Wittenberg will give each youth a scarf and pin.

"God Guides" will be the topic of Pastor Elmon H. Roy, at the 11:30 a. m. service Saturday.

Sabbath School will begin at 10 a. m. with Paul Craven superintendent. Mrs. Craven will give a report on "Faith-For-Today" television program's 10th anniversary. The local church helps sponsor it with a yearly offering.

A board meeting will be held Monday night at 8.

The Ladies Choir will meet Wednesday at 6:45 p. m. Prayer meeting will be conducted at 8 on the topic, "When God Kills the Devil."

Wellsville Man Fined In Car's Creek Plunge

Lloyd W. Fielding, 48, of Commerce St., Wellsville, was fined $50 and costs for unsafe operation at a hearing Tuesday before Judge Helen Huntsman of Toronto.

Mary Householder, 49, of Hammondsville paid $6 costs of a suspended fine for driving without a permit at a hearing Wednesday in Jefferson County Court at Richmond.

Hancock Vote Count Ends; Results Stand

Hancock County commissioners have completed the official canvass of returns from the May 10 primary, showing no material changes from the preliminary count.

However, Courthouse personnel can't file away the primary returns as yet because a recount that got under way last night of votes cast for Sen. Herbert Traubert, William Tompos and Don Chaney in the race for Democratic nomination for state senator.

Sen. Traubert of Follansbee, incumbent of the 1st Senatorial District, which covers Hancock, Brooke and Ohio Counties, was upset by Tompos.

Tompos, former member of the House of Delegates, apparently won the nomination by about 53 votes. Ballots will be recounted in the three counties. The results will not be known for some time, because the official canvass didn't get started in Ohio County until yesterday.

Here's the official count on all county offices:

Like Bob Feller, Hawkins Had Help From His Father

Dreamed Of Major Leagues . . .

This is the first of three articles on the career of Cleveland Indians' pitching sensation, Wynn Hawkins.

By CHUCK SUCH
Review Special Writer
New Waterford, is a Columbiana County village with a population of about 600 and it's seldom that anything happens there to create as much excitement as stirred up by a certain blond youngster.

Wynn Hawkins At 2.

To most residents of this tiny community, it seems like only yesterday that Wynn Hawkins was breaking scoring records for New Waterford High in basketball. Today, at 24, he's a starting pitcher for the Cleveland Indians. Like many little boys, Wynn dreamed of being a major league baseball player some day. Like Vowed To Give Wynn Help . . .

THE ELDER Hawkins vowed that he would give his son all the encouragement and instruction possible to help him become a big league star. "By the time Wynn was 14, he had seen more major league games than most adults," his mother revealed. "There were times when we couldn't exactly afford it, but we took him to many college basketball games, too." A handsome youngster, Wynn had a big crop of very curly blond hair when in short pants. When he began to stretch out, he always was tall for his age. He always had a lot of energy. "When he was just a little tot, we had to tie him to the clothes

Began Career At 12 . . .

WYNN actually began playing baseball at the age of 12. He started in American Legion ball. New Waterford is such a small community that it didn't have organized baseball of any kind. Wynn went to Columbiana to play American Legion ball. Later he played at East Palestine, and then again at Columbiana. In three seasons, he compiled an 18-5 record.

The youngster's ability was evident from the start. He pitched four no-hitters and several one and two-hitters.

He had a good fast ball, although not an overpowering one. His biggest asset was what his father had taught him — control.

When he was 14 years old, he walked only five batters in 56 innings and struck out 101 for an earned run average of 1.00.

In 1951 when 15, he walked only seven and fanned 53 while posting a 1.43 earned run average.

In 1952, at 16, he struck out 92 and walked 13, for a 1.09 earned run average.

He pitched two consecutive no-hitters that season. On both occasions, he came within one batter of a perfect game. He ticked the shirt of a batter in one game and the catcher dropped a third strike in the other.

'Boots' Was Top Athlete . . .

WYNN's father was quite an athlete himself so he knew a great deal about sports.

"Boots," as his father was nicknamed, was one of Columbiana High's all-time great athletes.

He won letters in every sport. In 1922, he went to the state track meet as a one-man team for Columbiana, when Class A and B schools were included in one group.

That year, Columbiana or rather many fathers, Wynn's dad hoped that some day his boy would grow up to become a big league star.

Together they worked diligently toward this goal. It's a familiar story to those who know the way Bob Feller's father groomed him since he was knee high.

Feller came from a farm in Iowa. His father taught him to pitch behind a barn.

Wynn's father taught him how to pitch on a baseball diamond directly behind their house. He groomed Wynn carefully, cautioned him to take good care of his arm and forbade him to play football.

Wynn has had a baseball in his hand since he's been old enough to hold one. His father has painstakingly molded his career.

"My father taught me control," Wynn said, crediting his father with teaching him one of the most important phases of pitching.

Wynn's father, Paul (better known as Boots to New Waterford residents) is an accountant at Trucon Steel in Youngstown.

His mother, Eunice, works in the post office at New Waterford.

He has an older sister, Mrs. Greta Cobb, and a nephew and a niece, who are among his most rabid fans.

Wynn's name is a derivative from his grandfather's name, Edwin.

"I always thought Edwin was kind of a sissy name," his mother explained. "I wanted to pick something similar, so we settled for Wynn."

Wynn is a chip off the old block, as the saying goes. His father was quite an athlete. However, his folks were farm people and they couldn't spare him time to play ball. He was needed to help with chores.

line in the backyard to keep him from wandering away," his mother recalls. "He was very active and so full of energy."

"As he grew older, he would go over to the high school and sit in the bleachers watching the basketball team practice. After practice, the coach would allow him to go on the floor and the older boys would play with him. He never played with toys. It's always been sports for him."

"The older boys all seemed to take a liking to him. They all played with him. Today, many are married and have children of their own. And they're quite proud to have helped him develop as an athlete."

Pitched Legion Ball At 12.

Meanwhile, Wynn's father was supervising his career closely. He wasn't permitted to pitch early in the spring and pitching in cold days was taboo.

Hawkins — placed second in the state. Boots set pole vault and a broad jump records which stood for 15 years.

Later, he became an outstanding sandlot pitcher and independent basketball player in the Youngstown area.

One thing stuck out in his mind. He injured a shoulder in football and vowed that he never would permit his son to play football.

Braves Help Pirates Into First Place Tie

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer
Milwaukee's bombing Braves finally have gained some ground in that National League race—and they did it while being held without a home run for the first time in two weeks.

Using singles and doubles Wednesday night the Braves scored a 3-1 decision over San Francisco that handed southpaw Mike McCormick his first defeat and left the Giants in a first place tie with Pittsburgh. The Pirates gained a share of the lead by beating St. Louis 4-2. It was Pittsburgh's seventh victory in eight games.

Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 5-4 in 12 innings in the only other game played in the NL. Chicago's game at Philadelphia was rained out.

In the American League, Chicago's White Sox retained a half-game lead by beating Boston 6-5. Baltimore reclaimed second with a 5-4 victory at Kansas City while New York climbed past Cleveland into third place with a 4-2 decision over the Indians. Washington defeated Detroit 3-0 in 11 innings. The Braves beat McCormick, who won his first five, with a seventh inning run that broke a 1-1 tie. Reliever Don McMahon then saved it by getting Willie McCovey on a fly to center with the bases loaded in the ninth. Bob Rush (2-0) won it. Right-hander Vern Law, who has lost one, became the first six-game winner in the majors, going all the way with a nine-hitter against St. Louis. The Cards, with manager Solly Hemus rumored on the way out, were blanked on six hits until the ninth while losing for the 14th time in 16 road games. Pittsburgh scored twice in the first, then nailed it with two in the seventh against ex-Pirate Ron Kline (1-3). Frank Robinson made it 4-1 in the 10th with his two-run homer off losing Dodger reliever Danny McDevitt (0-1). Bill Henry (1-1) won it with one-inning of relief after Jay Hook gave up 10 hits and four runs but fanned 10 in 11 frames. L. Senate Takes Action On New Baseball Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee takes up today a bill that would give the new Continental League a chance to draft many baseball players controlled by other major league clubs.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), chairman of the Senate Antitrust

City County Baseball League Sets Preview

The newly formed City-County League will hold a preview with all six teams taking part Sunday at Negley. Three games have been set up with East Palestine and Salem meeting in the first at 1:30 p. m., East Liverpool and Chippawa clashing at 3 and Lawrenceville American Legion facing Negley at 4. All umpires who have been contacted previously are asked to report with their equipment.

and Monopoly subcommittee, already has been criticized by Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick.

Frick, fresh from a strategy meeting in Chicago with major league club owners, was one of three witnesses called by the subcommittee.

Also slated to testify were Branch Rickey, president of the fledgling Continental League, and George M. Trautman, spokesman for the minor leagues as president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Leagues.

The Continental League has accused the majors of doing everything possible to slow down and hamper its plans to start operating next year. One of its main problems is to get the ball players it needs.

Kefauver's bill would help by forbidding any club to own or control more than 100 players and by requiring them once a year to offer 60 of the 100 for unlimited draft to other clubs.

He has charged the majors with hoarding players, saying some of the clubs have controlled as many as 450 players through their farm systems.

ELHS Golfers Held To Tie

East Liverpool High's golf team played to a second consecutive tie on a 6-4-6 deadlock with Ursuline Wednesday at Youngstown. Cimenelli of Ursuline captured medalist honors with a 36.

Craig Burdick paced East Liverpool with a 37 while Bob Putt turned in a 39.

The Potters will practice at the Belmont Country Club Friday to prepare for the district golf meet on Saturday.

Beaver Local Routs Newell

Behind the three-hit pitching of freshman Dave Myer, Beaver Local picked up its sixth win in nine starts by blanking Wells High, 16-0, Wednesday at Newell.

Beaver Local banged out 10 hits to support Myer with Dale Beagle having a three-for-four day. Myer helped his own cause with a pair of hits while Gary Hickman collected two safeties.

The Beavers had their best inning in the seventh when they pushed across eight runs.

The Ranch Wins At Lisbon . . .

FISHER'S Sport's Equipment of Salem, which led the Lisbon Class, led almost all season, was bumped on the final night as the "Ranch" captured the 1960 championship.

It was a nip-and-tuck affair, with the "Ranch" gaining a 47-46 edge over Fisher's. Heck's Restaurant of Columbiana was only two points behind the leaders. Hune Co. of East Liverpool finished fourth in the final standings with 44 points.

Kayle Reark held the hot hand last week at Lisbon, firing a 634

LEN SHIELDS fired a triplicate of 162 for Iron City Beer in the American League where one of the closest races in the city is being waged among four teams.

Only two points separate the first four teams. Rand's Drugs leads with 31, Iron City has 30½, Gengarella's 30 and Tont's Hotel 29.

EVERYTHING happened on the final night in the Cats and Dogs League.

The league's two contenders for the fourth-round title — Krosney's Jewelers and Cox Construction — ended in a two-way tie for first place.

Krosney's and Cox Construction both took four out of five points from their opponents, Village Green and Higgins TV.

The two teams will meet in a rolloff Friday at 7 p. m. to determine the fourth-round winner.

The same night southpaw Harry Early set a new high three-game series of 625 with games of 223, 214 and 188. George Lewis was close behind and gave Early a run for his money with a 608 series.

Early also won the high average for men with 177 and Mary Lou Dickson's 156 topped the women, and she had the first high game of 205.

Roy Wolfe was tops in men's high game with a 234, while Corine Richards topped the women.

McDougald's HR Tops Indians, 4-2

Blast Comes Off Hawkins In 2nd Inning

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Gil McDougald's three-run homer for the New York Yankees Wednesday night beat Cleveland 4-2, and the win was New York's first victory in four tries against the Tribe. The win jumped the Yankees past the Indians into third place in the American League race.

Post 374 Juniors To Practice Saturday

Candidates for American Legion Post 374 junior baseball team will practice Saturday at 1:30 p. m. at Patterson Field.

Chicago's White Sox, still unbeaten at home in eight games, retained a half-game lead with a 6-5 decision over Boston. Baltimore reclaimed second place by defeating Kansas City 5-4 on Jackie Brandt's ninth-inning homer. Washington finally won one from Detroit, beating the Tigers 3-0 in 11 innings as Camilo Pascual ran his shutout string to 26 innings, longest in the majors this season.

In the National League, Pittsburgh defeated St. Louis 4-2 and gained a first place tie with San Francisco. The Giants were beaten 3-1 at Milwaukee by the third place Braves, who trail the leaders by four games. Fourth place Cincinnati, also four games behind, beat Los Angeles 5-4 in 12 innings. The other NL game, Chicago at Philadelphia, was rained out.

McDougald's third homer was all the Yankees needed behind Ralph Terry's eight-hit, eight-strikeout pitching. McDougald's shot followed a walk and Elston Howard's single in the second inning off losing rookie Wynn Hawkins (3-3).

Winning reliever Gerry Staley (4-1) got the clinching run home for the White Sox with a sacrifice fly in the sixth. They had come from behind against loser Frank Sullivan (1-3) with four runs in the fifth, two on Minnie Mino's two-out double.

Gene Woodling's two-run double tied it 4-4 in the seventh for Baltimore. Brandt then tagged losing reliever Leo Kiely (1-1) for his fourth homer. Rookie Steve Barber (3-1) won it in relief.

Jim Lemon's one-on-one homer won it for the Senators in a three-run 11th against reliever Dave Sisler (1-1) after they had been blanked on six hits for 10 innings by Jim Bunning. It was Lemon's ninth home run, tying Milwaukee's Hank Aaron for the major league lead.

Perkins Wins TV Decision

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Paolo Rosi, erstwhile No. 2 lightweight contender, may have left his fight in the gym before tangling with unranked Eddie Perkins in the Chicago Stadium Wednesday night.

"My legs, they just don't want to go, maybe I trained too hard," ruefully explained Rosi, a 9-5 favorite, after he dropped a unanimous 10-round decision to 23-year-old Perkins of Chicago in a nationally-televised bout.

It was just a year ago that Rosi from the Bronx, N. Y., gave lightweight champion Joe Brown a stiff battle before losing in the ninth round on a TKO because of cuts in a title match.

But Wednesday night, Rosi never got untracked against the aggressive Perkins.

Perkins really had the right wave length in his punching against Rosi, who was missing badly and won only four rounds on the cards of all three officials. One official, Judge Harold Marovitz, didn't give a round to Rosi, awarding six to Perkins and calling four even.

Perkins, winning his 18th bout against 7 losses, weighed 137. Rosi, suffering his 6th defeat against 31 victories and 1 draw, scaled 134.

Referee Joey White voted for Perkins 48-44. Judge John Bray also saw it for Perkins 48-44 and Judge Marovitz liked the Chicago boxer 50-44.

George Billick of Old Forge, Pa., leads all bowlers with 16 American Bowling Congress approved 300 games.

Pittsburgh's Law Credits Control For His Success

PITTSBURGH (AP) — If there's a secret to Vernon Law's success, it's control.

The Pittsburgh Pirate right-hander became the winningest pitcher in the major leagues Wednesday night by defeating St. Louis 4-2. It was his sixth victory against one loss.

"Control is probably my biggest asset," Law said. "I feel as though I lack some of the speed of fast ball pitchers like Don Drysdale so I rely on control."

"Concentration on it in practice is probably the greatest thing. When I'm warming up I throw to spots. In fact, I do that all the time — throw to spots."

"I use my fast ball in tough spots, and I change speeds on the batters," he added.

A Conflict In June

Pugilists and performers, who usually are friendly enough, appear to be at loggerheads on a matter that will find them vying for the attention of the public on the same June night.

On one side of the issue is the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences, which is prepared to hand out its annual Emmy awards on NBC June 20. On the other side are the promoters of the Floyd Patterson-Ingram Johnson championship bout, which has been scheduled for the same night. Pity the viewer addicted to sports!

ANOTHER SEASON'S run for "World Wide 60" is assured, according to a network announcement. NBC had entertained the idea of scheduling "The Arthur Murray Party" in place of "World Wide 60" Saturday nights, but the sponsors rejected the time period. Could be "The Murray Party" will turn up on ABC Thursday nights in the fall, if the dance master doesn't decide to forego weekly TV in favor of specials next season.

A huge incentive motivated Milton Berle to subordinate his comedy to the bowling game. His weekly pay from "Jackpot Bowling" will be $15,000.

6 Man Labor, Management Group Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor and management representatives get a chance today to decide whether they want to try to agree on mutual problems or continue to fight them out.

A six-man group—three representatives each from management and organized labor—arranged to meet at the bidding of President Eisenhower to lay out plans for a series of industrial peace talks.

These talks, as outlined by Eisenhower, would be designed to try to reach agreements that would lead to better employer-union relations, curb inflation, increase output, and spur economic growth.

Both sides publicly pledged to work at the job but privately said they had doubts about accomplishing anything. Like the participants at the ill-fated Paris meeting of the world powers, the labor-management conferees are apparently distrustful and suspicious of each other.

The meeting today had an apparently simple goal. That is to agree on an agenda of matters to be discussed at future conferences and what additional men should be invited in by both sides.

Hancock Farm Women's Council Has Music Event

Mrs. Louis Wagner of Georgetown presented a program on music appreciation at the meeting of the Hancock County Farm Women's Council Wednesday afternoon at the Fairview Grange in Pughtown.

Mrs. Wagner told the women, "An appreciation of music should be like a well-balanced meal—a large portion of what you like and small servings of what you don't like but must have because they are good for you."

She demonstrated how songs have changed in playing over the years.

Mrs. Harry Chapman reported on the craft and recreation workshop held at Oglebay Park at Wheeling by the extension department of West Virginia University and Oglebay Institute.

Mrs. John C. Village and Mrs. Floyd R. Grimes reported on the home demonstration leadership training conference held at Jackson Mills.

The council voted to provide a scholarship for a 4-H member to the older youth camp. Mrs. Harry Nelson, president, presided.

Miss Helen Petrakis, 4-H and club agent, announced Soil Stewardship Week will be observed starting Sunday. A training school for lesson leaders on buying ready-made clothes will be held Wednesday in the extension office in New Cumberland.

Devotions were led by the Rhododendron club and refreshments were served by the Agathalian and Oakland clubs.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I repair a large tear in a canvas awning?

A. Cut out a canvas patch slightly larger than the hole. On the back of the patch, spread a layer of white lead, and tack it in place on all sides with large-headed copper tacks, close together. Apply white lead on the outside, let dry, then sandpaper lightly, and finish off with at least two coats of heavy deck paint.

Q. How can I remove an ink stain from a rug?

A. They can usually be removed by making a paste of buttermilk and starch, applying, and leaving it on for two or three days. Then rinse and let dry. Repeat the process if necessary.

Q. How can I boil an egg that is cracked?

A. Add a little vinegar to the water that is used for boiling, and the white of the egg will not boil out.

Willowick, with an increase of 15,000 persons in the last 10 years, edged out Painesville—18,724 to 16,043—to become the largest city in Lake County.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Let Child Do Chores If You Must Work

You and I know a number of grownups who acquired self-reliance and responsibility during childhood and youth, when they measured up to the necessity of doing so because their widowed mother was a compelled to work. Not all children measure up under such conditions however, a n d , By Garry Meyer.

One gradually add more jobs as he grows older, and none which can't be effectively enforced.

4. Train him to do a job so well in your presence that you can feel pretty sure he will do it well in your absence. There's no sense in commanding him to do certain jobs before or after school if you can't be there or have a competent substitute to enforce their doing.

The average working mother would do well to request, not command, the child, say from 8 to 14, to do certain things for her after she leaves home or before she returns, and then be most appreciative when these requests have been carried out.

Sen. Johnson To Put Drive Into High Gear

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination will swing into high gear with the opening here probably next week of a "Citizens for Johnson" headquarters.

Shortly thereafter, the Texas senator is expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy. That may come shortly after the last of the state presidential primaries early in June.

Although obviously an aspirant, Johnson has avoided any announcement of his political plans and has stayed out of state primaries. He has said his duties as Senate Democratic leader require his attention.

Johnson's backers believe they can pick up enough pledged delegates between now and the start of the Los Angeles convention on July 11 to assure the Texas "considerably over" 400 votes on the first ballot.

The story hour will be for children who will be entering the first, second or third grades. It will begin Tuesday, June 14, at 1:30 p. m. in the children's library and continued each Tuesday for six weeks.

Hassle Over New Federal Law

5-State Meeting Called June 20 On Boat Licensing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Legal experts of five states bordering the Ohio River will try again at Louisville on June 20 to arrive at a solution as to how and by whom boats used on the river are to be licensed.

The hassle over boat licensing has arisen as the result of a new federal law requiring licensing in the states in which the boats principally are used.

One of the major points at issue is who owns the river. Officials of Kentucky and West Virginia have claimed the river belongs to them and that boats used principally on the Ohio should be licensed by those two states regardless of where they are moored.

Joseph Deutsche Jr., chief counsel for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, sought unsuccessfully at a five-state conference here yesterday to have a resolution adopted by which boat owners would buy their licenses in the states in which they reside.

He said he has been advising Cincinnati residents to buy their boat licenses in Ohio.

It was at Deutsche's suggestion, however, that the group representing the states of Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and West Virginia agreed Wednesday to have legal experts meet again in an effort to settle the problem.

There was a feeling, however, that there will have to be some kind of clarification of the law from the U.S. Supreme Court before a solution could be reached.

That clarification would have to cover what is considered "principal use" of a river.

Atty.-Gen. John Breckenridge of Kentucky expressed belief Ohio's proposal that boats be licensed by the states in which the owners reside would be a violation of the federal law.

Assistant Atty. - Gen. Clement B. Basset of West Virginia, declared no one at the meeting had the right to change the law and said it could not be done "short of a Supreme Court decision."

In answer to a question from Assistant Atty. - Gen. Paul F. Brady, Scott Barbour, director of Kentucky's new boating division, said an Indiana resident of Evansville, Ind., who moored his boat at Evansville and bought an Indiana license would be arrested for not having a Kentucky permit.

Barbour said Kentucky stood to lose $300,000 a year in revenue if it permitted Ohio, Indiana and Illinois to share in the boat licensing receipts.

Chester Plans To Quit 'Gunsmoke' TV Series

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mister Dillon will have another sidekick after next season on the "Gunsmoke" TV series. Chester is quitting.

"I'm very fond of Chester, but I've gone about as far as I can go with him in development," said Dennis Weaver, who plays Marshal Dillon's assistant. He told CBS Wednesday that he'll look for his own show when his 6-year contract expires after the 1960-61 season.

Population Increases

ASHLAND, Ohio (AP)—The city of Ashland had a population gain of approximately 21 per cent— from 14,287 to 17,301—in the last 10 years, according to preliminary figures announced by census officials. The Ashland County population is now 38,585 compared with 33,040 in 1950, when the last census was taken.

Ice Cream Drivers Ratify 2-Year Pact

CLEVELAND (AP)—A virtually unanimous vote of more than 200 ice cream drivers belonging to the Ice Cream Drivers Local 336 of the Teamsters Union has ratified a two-year contract with 21 companies. The contract covers about 300 drivers.

The agreement provides for a wage increase of seven cents an hour, retroactive to April 1, and an additional increase of six cents next year, along with other benefits.

Program Postponed

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A health and life insurance program for city employees, and other municipal programs, will be postponed due to a sharp drop in city income tax revenues, Finance Director Abe Harshman said. He sees little hope for early improvement in the city's economy.

Teachers Urged To Have Strap For Discipline

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Teachers should have a strap handy to keep discipline in public schools, says Municipal Judge Charles T. Smith.

"Today a great many families are ignoring discipline in the home on the theory that the schools are doing it," Judge Smith said Wednesday. "But teachers are not meting out punishment because boards of education frown on it. It's a vicious circle."

Smith sentenced a parent to five days in jail for slapping a teacher. Ambrose Cosgrove, 51, said he struck Miss Helen Nies because he thought the teacher had slapped his 10-year-old son, Terry.

Woman Has 600 Dogs But None Make Sound

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Virginia Hanna, who lives in nearby Johnstown, has 600 dogs — but the only animal sound at her house is "meow."

That's because the 600 dogs — collected over a period of 30 years — are made of china, metal and wood, while the one cat, a family pet, is flesh and blood.

Nixon Says GOP Can Win New York On Team Effort

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon added up the score of a two-day visit and concluded today that Republicans can carry New York in November with a team effort.

The team he had in mind, by his own statement, included Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. The governor has been polite but seemingly unenthusiastic about Nixon's expected selection as the Republican presidential nominee.

Nixon himself was a model of circumspection Wednesday every time he dealt with the question of Rockefeller's announcement that he will not attend the GOP convention in Chicago. The question came up during Nixon's appearances in Syracuse, Auburn and Buffalo.

Yes, Nixon said, Rockefeller certainly is a possibility for the presidency. Yes, Nixon accepts as final the governor's statement that he won't take second place on the ticket.

No, he had not presumed to ask

Registration To Begin Friday In Red Cross Water Classes

Registration for the annual free water safety program of the East Liverpool Red Cross will begin Friday at the local chapter office.

Director Jack Frontone announced today.

Two three-week instruction periods will be held daily from June 3 through July 29. Junior and senior life-saving will be taught from 9 to 10 a. m., followed by swimming from 10:30 a. m. to 12 noon for beginning, intermediate and advanced classes.

The program is open to everyone in the community over the age of 6. However, those under 21 must have their parent's signature, Frontone said. Everyone is required to have the approval of their physician to signify that they are able to participate in the program, he added.

A special course for instructor aides will be held June 6 through June 10 from 8:45 a. m. to 12 noon daily at the Red Cross office.

Eligibility for the Senior life-saving courses will be based on the applicant's competence in a swimming test, which will include diving, swimming with various strokes, treading water and floating.

Boys and girls from 12 to 15, or in the seventh to 10th school grades, will be eligible for the junior life-saving course if they successfully pass a similar swimming test.

A water show and awarding of certificates will climax the program, Frontone said. Fifteen days of instruction are necessary to earn a certificate.

Arrangements for this year's program are being handled by Judge Louis Tobin, chapter president; Miss Mary Catherine Brady, Red Cross field representative from Youngstown; Mrs. R. J. Schiff, water safety chairman, and Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner, James Walker, Eugene Hall and Alvin Arner, committee members.

The 1959 swimming session resulted in certificates being awarded to 371 community residents, compared with 148 in 1958.

The committee announced that future plans include instruction in small craft handling as well as the life-saving and swimming program.

A Hudson Valley tour, including a visit to West Point, and a show at the Radio City Music Hall will be events Friday. On Saturday, the group will take a 3-hour guided boat cruise around Manhattan Island, shop on Times Square and see a Saturday night on the square.

Students will return to Midland Sunday about 6 p. m. Those on the trip are Betty Ann Benedict, Jeanie Brown, Peggy Dawson, Aurora D'Innocenzo, Arlene D. T. Kathleen Flannery, Barbara Held, Janet Kossler, Kathy Kovacic, Joan Kukich, Marian Michael, Darlene Pennington, Ethel Perenovich, Ginny Reed, Patty Scarsella, Peggy Schriver, Elaine Segar, Margery Snyder, Carolyn Welch and Shirley Wolfe.

School At Wellsville To Hold Picnic Friday

The Wellsville McKinley School will hold its annual picnic Friday afternoon from 1:30 to 4 at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave.

Plans for the event were outlined at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Monday night. Guests were Mrs. Jennie Calhoun, retiring school nurse, Board of Education members and past presidents.

Officers were installed. Mrs. Everett Bunfill is the new president. The group voted to request the Board of Education to provide separate teachers for the first and second grades. Both now are combined under the direction of Mrs. Hazel Frazer.

The attendance banner was won by the first and second grades.

Arnez Leaves Hospital

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Desi Arnez is out of Cedars of Lebanon Hospital after a week's stay for what his doctors said was his annual health checkup.

Man Gives Denial In Probation Case

Clarence Elmer Hashman, 42, of 310 Market St., is scheduled for a hearing Monday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of violating probation on a one-year term imposed upon him in 1959 on a non-support charge.

Hashman, also facing two charges in Municipal Court, entered a denial when he appeared before the judge Wednesday as a probation violator. His bond of $1,000 was continued.

Court records show Hashman was sentenced Nov. 10, 1959, to serve a year in the County Jail for alleged non-support of his 7 children. The sentence was suspended providing he made payments of $100 a month. Court records show he has made only two payments.

Hashman pleaded guilty in Municipal Court Monday on charges of intoxication and "disturbing frightening the occupants of a dwelling." Judge Samuel M. Cherloff deferred sentencing pending the outcome of the Juvenile Court case.

Police alleged Hashman attempted to force his way into the home of Mrs. Virginia Egner, 108 E. Church Ln., about midnight May 12. Ronnie Egner, 14, told police he jumped from a second-story porch roof of his home after Hashman threatened his life. In the leap, he caught his forearm on a protruding nail, suffering a severe laceration.

Tokay, home of the grapes from which Tokay wine is made, is a town in Hungary.

Orchards Inspected On Farms In Hancock

Hancock County apple orchards were inspected Monday and Tuesday by Dr. Joseph Barrat of West Virginia University, who assisted the apple growers with their insect and disease problems.

Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, said he plans to evaluate the prospects for this year's crops following Dr. Barrat's inspection.

Project In Harrison

CADIZ—Contractors will bid Tuesday, May 24, on 12 highway projects in East-Central and South-eastern Ohio, according to an announcement by the Ohio Department of Highways.

The projects are among 32 being offered at Tuesday's bi-letting session in Columbus, the eighth of the current calendar year.

Largest is a 6 1/2-mile relocation of U. S. 22 in Harrison County, to cost an estimated $5.8 million, including right-of-way and engineering expenses.

Beginning southwest of Cadiz near Township Rd. 319, the new, limited access highway will skirt north of Cadiz and Hopedale, rejoining (old) U. S. 22 at the Jefferson County line near Jacob Castrell Rd. Consisting largely of 4 lanes with a 40-foot grass median, the project will include 5 bridges, with interchanges at U. S. 36, SR 9, SR 151, and existing U. S. 22.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a boy. I am almost 10 years old. I learn a lot about life in your articles.

I have a problem. Can you help me right away? My little brother is 7 years old. He is little than I am. When my brother or I spill milk or gravy or cranberries on the tablecloth we are ordered to leave the table. Sometimes if we are laughing we both have to leave.

When my mother or father spill something they never have to leave. They just mop it up and go on talking like nothing happened. Why do grownups get away with things that kids get punished for? Thank you. — ANDY.

Dear Andy: When adults spill things they consider it an "unavoidable accident." In other words, they say it couldn't be helped. When kids spill things they say it is carelessness. A laughing kid, of course, is considered more careless than any other kind.

I don't believe a child should be sent away from the table for spilling things unless he stood on a chair and reached across the table or did something very rude which caused the spilling.

Mealtime is usually the only time when the whole family can get together and talk. It should be fun. Please call this article to your mother's attention. If she wants to hear more on the subject I can give her some good examples of people who grew up with "nervous stomachs" because mealtime was associated with tension and punishment.

Wild About Himself

Dear Ann: I'm a man, 32, good-looking, well-traveled, well-read, interesting company and a good dresser. I've spent so much time developing cultural interests that I haven't much money. I want very much to be married.

The trouble is when I meet a girl with looks she has no brains. When I meet a girl with brains it's an even bet that her face would stop a seven-day clock. In the past five years I've met a few girls who have both looks and brains — but no money.

I'm not trying to be funny. I am very serious about wanting to marry and I think I have a great many of the finer qualities to offer a woman. I just happen to be particular and would like a few suggestions.—ELIGIBLE BACHELOR.

P. S: Perhaps you know of somebody? I'd be happy to send a picture.

Dear Eligible: I have the picture, Buster. Don't send one.

I suggest you forget about looks and money and settle for a girl with brains. If you can get one. There should be at least one set in every family.

Late Live Show

Dear Ann: Three teen-age girls who live across the court from us are either too lazy or too immodest to pull down the window shades at night when they're getting ready for bed.

I have two growing sons. Heaven knows there are enough bad influences on all sides these days without having half-dressed girls parading around every night in full view of these impressionable children. My sons are 14 and 16.

Both boys have remarked that the girls ought to be ashamed of themselves. Should I phone their mother? — DECENT WOMAN.

Dear Decent: Why don't you tell your "impressionable children" to pull down their shades. It would accomplish the same purpose.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Unexpected Visitor

STERLING, Colo. (AP) — Frank Richards of Grants, N. M., a graduate of Sterling High School, created quite a stir when he revisited Sterling recently. Seems that when the class of 1924 held a reunion two years ago, Richards was listed as deceased.
